

Interdisciplinary Ph.D. in Theatre and Drama Program
Associate Faculty
2011-2012

Associate Faculty are eligible to chair dissertations; at least two (of three) dissertation committee members must be on the Associate Faculty. Students are encouraged to think about the widest possible range of suitable faculty for course work, advising, and supervision of research, seeking expertise in their topical area(s), methodology, and theoretical approach. Multi-disciplinary involvement is the norm.

African American Studies

Martha Biondi (African American history) also History

E. Patrick Johnson (race, gender & sexuality studies, queer performance, performance ethnography) also Performance Studies and Gender Studies

D. Soyini Madison (human rights and contemporary social movements) also Performance Studies and Anthropology

Sandra L. Richards (American and African American drama, African theatre and drama) also Theatre and Performance Studies

Harvey Young (Black drama/performance; American drama; American film/television, literary and performance theory) also Performance Studies, Theatre and Radio/Television/Film

Anthropology

Katherine Hoffman (oral performance)

Robert Launay (theories of anthropology, comparative social theory)

D. Soyini Madison (human rights and contemporary social movements) also Performance Studies and African American Studies

Helen B. Schwartzman (psychological anthropology, children and technology, play and work, organizational ethnography, memory and narrative, US)

Mary Weismantel (Latin America, ethnographic writing)

Art History

Huey Copeland (African-American art historiography)

Krista Thompson (arts of the African diaspora, critical race theory)

David Van Zanten (History of modern architecture and city making)

Hamid Naficy (exile and diaspora theory and cinema, Iranian cinema and television, documentary and ethnographic films) also Radio/Television/Film

Classics

Kathryn Bosher (Greek and Roman drama, ancient theatre production, reception of classical drama)

Reginald Gibbons (poetry and ancient tragedy) also English

Sara Monoson (ancient Greek politics and political theory) also Political Science

Martin Mueller (classical and neoclassical drama) also English

Communication Studies

Jasmine Cobb (Black popular culture, visual culture)

Angela G. Ray (rhetorical criticism, 19th-C popular lecturing, women's rhetoric)

C. Riley Snorton (Black popular culture, performance studies)

Comparative Literary Studies

Scott Durham (20th-C French drama) also French

Brian T. Edwards (20th-C US, postcolonial and diaspora studies) also English

Barbara Newman (medieval literature, religion, gender) also English and Religion

Andrew Wachtel (contemporary East European drama and prose) also Slavic Studies

Sam Weber (critical and media theory) also German

Will West (premodern drama, theories of performance) also English

Education and Social Policy

Susan A. Lee (dance history and criticism, psychology and the arts) also Theatre and Gender Studies

English

Tracy C. Davis (historiography, 19th and 20th-C history, performance theory) also Theatre and Performance Studies

Brian T. Edwards (20th-C US, postcolonial and diaspora studies) also Comparative Literary Studies

Christine Froula (modernist literature, feminist theory)

Reginald Gibbons (poetry and ancient tragedy) also Classics

Wendy Griswold (sociology of literature and culture, regional: Italy, Norway, Nigeria, USA) also Sociology

Susan A. Manning (dance studies, 20th-C theatrical performance, American Studies) also Theatre and Performance Studies

Jeffrey Masten (Renaissance drama, queer theory) also Gender Studies

Martin Mueller (classical and neoclassical drama) also Classics

Barbara Newman (medieval literature, religion, gender) also Religion, Comparative Literary Studies

Susan Phillips (Medieval and Renaissance drama, manuscript and early print culture)

Wendy Wall (Early modern English literature and culture, 1500-1700)

Will West (premodern drama, theories of performance) also Comparative Literary Studies

French and Italian

Scott Durham (20th-C French drama) also Comparative Literary Studies

Jane Winston (20th-C French literature, feminist theory) also Gender Studies

Gender Studies

Linda Phyllis Austern (Shakespeare and music and other early modern European theatre, early opera, opera video, gender and sexuality) also Music

Susan A. Lee (dance history and criticism, psychology and the arts) also Theatre and School of Education

E. Patrick Johnson (race, gender and sexuality studies, queer performance, performance ethnography) also African American Studies and Performance Studies

Jeffrey Masten (Renaissance drama, queer theory) also English

Alexandra Owen (19-20th-C British, women's history, spiritualism) also History

Mimi White (film/TV theory, feminist theory, cultural studies) also Radio/Television/Film

Jane Winston (20th-C French literature, feminist theory) also French and Italian

German

Peter Hayes (modern German history; history of the Holocaust) also History

Rainer Rumold (German avant-garde, modernism)

Sam Weber (critical and media theory) also Comparative Literary Studies

History

Josef Barton (US social, cultural and comparative history)

Henry Binford (urban history, history of technology)

Martha Biondi (African American history) also African American Studies

Peter Carroll, History (19th-20th-C China, urbanism, gender)

Peter Hayes (modern German history; history of the Holocaust) also German

Tessie Liu (18-20th-C France, and modern drama)

Edward Muir (Italian Renaissance, ritual behavior and performance, feuding) co-director
Graduate Certificate in Italian Studies

Alexandra Owen (19-20th-C British, women's history, spiritualism) also Gender Studies

Music

Linda Phyllis Austern (Shakespeare and music and other early modern European theatre, early opera, opera video, gender and sexuality) also Gender Studies

Thomas Bauman (18th-C opera, musicology)

Inna Naroditskaya (ethnomusicology, Middle East, Russia, gender)

Jesse Rosenberg (opera, musicology) also Certificate Program in Italian Studies

Performance Studies

Joshua Chambers Letson (Asian American drama, legal studies, queer performance)

Tracy C. Davis (historiography, 19th and 20th-C history, performance theory) also English and Theatre

Paul Edwards (narratology, theory, adaptation) also Theatre

E. Patrick Johnson (race, gender and sexuality studies, queer performance, performance ethnography) also African American Studies and Gender Studies

D. Soyini Madison (human rights and contemporary social movements) also Anthropology and African American Studies

Susan A. Manning (dance studies, 20th-C theatrical performance, American Studies) also Theatre and English

Ramón Rivera-Servera (20th and 21st-C U.S., Mexican, and Caribbean performance; queer studies; Latina/o American studies)

Sandra L. Richards (American and African American drama, African theatre and drama) also Theatre and African American Studies

Carol Simpson Stern (19th and 20th-C poetry and fiction, feminine sensibility)

Harvey Young (Black drama/performance; American drama; American film/television, literary and performance theory) also African American Studies, Theatre and Radio/Television/Film

Mary Zimmerman (presentational aesthetics, directing) also Theatre

Philosophy

Axel Mueller (philosophy of language, pragmatism, Kant, philosophical issues in aesthetic and other experience)

Political Science

Richard Iton (popular culture and politics, diaspora studies) also African American Studies

Sara Monoson (ancient Greek politics and political theory) also Classics

Radio/Television/Film

Scott Curtis (film history and historiography, scientific and medical cinema)

Chuck Kleinhans (film history and theory, semiotics, postmodernism)

Hamid Naficy (exile and diaspora theory and cinema, Iranian cinema and television, documentary and ethnographic films) also Art History

Jeffrey Sconce (television, history of media technology, contemporary cinema)

Lynn Spigel (television history, film and television genre, media theory, feminist media studies, cultural theory)

Jacqueline Stewart (history of reception, African-American film)

Mimi White (film/TV theory, feminist theory, cultural studies) also Gender Studies

Harvey Young (Black drama/performance; American drama; American film/television, literary and performance theory) also Theatre and Performance Studies

Religion

Barbara Newman (medieval literature, religion, gender) also English, Comparative Literary Studies

Slavic Languages and Literature

Ilya Kutik (film poetics, 18th and 20th-C Russian poetry)

Andrew Wachtel (contemporary East European drama and prose) also Comparative Literary Studies

Sociology

Gary Alan Fine (sociology of art, folklore, performance criticism, qualitative field methods)

Wendy Griswold (sociology of literature and culture, regional: Italy, Norway, Nigeria, USA) also English

Spanish

Dario Fernandez-Morera (Golden Age)

Theatre

Tracy C. Davis (historiography, 19th and 20th-C history, performance theory) also English and Performance Studies

Paul Edwards (narratology, theory, adaptation) also Performance Studies

Susan A. Lee (dance history and criticism, psychology and the arts) also School of Education and Gender Studies

Susan A. Manning (dance studies, 20th-C theatrical performance, American Studies) also Performance Studies and English

Dassia Posner (directing history & theory, Russian theatre)

Mary Poole (acting)

Sandra L. Richards (American and African American drama, African theatre and drama) also African American Studies and Performance Studies

Michael Rohd (directing, devised theatre, community engaged theatre)

Jessica Thebus (directing, performance theory)

Harvey Young (Black drama/performance; American drama; American film/television, literary and performance theory) also Performance Studies

Mary Zimmerman (presentational aesthetics, directing) also Performance Studies